Singing Waiters

The Singing Waiters are guaranteed to break the ice at any event, Your guests will be amazed and delighted when the 'waiters' suddenly break into song, hand out roses, and play guitars. Using classically trained singers and West End performers they perform an impressive range of music with a set-list designed to excite any audience. Our Singing Waiters greet guests on arrival; building a rapport, while behaving like perfectly normal waiters. Your guests won't suspect a thing as these talented performers wait on them with charm and professionalism, exactly like a real waiter. Imagine the surprise, when the 'waiters' suddenly break into song, playing acoustic guitars and handing out roses to your hosts.

Surprise turns to delight as the performance builds with superb harmonies and guitar work. They can serenade your guest of honour and move around to play to your other guests. The act works acoustically performing to the room or with a pa system for larger audiences.

The Singing Waiters play list is designed to encourage participation, so it won't be long before everyone joins in the act. Typically the Waiters will be with you for up to four hours with the music performance lasting for around 20 minutes. If the Singing Waiters are performing as a mix and mingle act around tables then they can play for up to 45 minutes.
