MONEY BONANZA

This is a great activity for larger groups. Your group will be divided into their teams and are given Firebird or branded fun money. Teams must use their fun money to partake in activities and games, selecting the best team member to attempt the challenge! Depending on how successful they are, the teams can win extra money to go and try their hand at the next activity. Money Bonanza tests leadership, motivation and delegation skills, as teams must try to compete in as many activities as possible...

The Aim

The objective is simply, as a team, to win as much money as possible – the teams will be under pressure to do this in the given time. Each team must select a team member to lead the team, to ensure a focus on time management, communication skills, delegation, teamwork and individual performance. Should an activity be head-to-head it is the teams responsibility to ensure that they have a member(s) of an opposing team to compete against.
