Graffiti Classics

Graffiti Classics is a sensation – fresh, funny and fabulously entertaining.

Their aim to make classical music wickedly funny and fantastically exhilarating hits all the right notes. Highlighting both the individual's and group's incredible talent, every piece is brilliantly arranged and choreographed.

This hilarious all-singing, all-dancing musical comedy cabaret show will have your guests mesmerised by their flawless playing, and floored by their ability to jump genre – from Classical, to Gypsy, Folk, Jazz, Opera and Pop – and dance at the same time. With something for everyone, this dazzling show is a masterpiece.

Founded in 1997 by four professional musicians who met whilst busking in Covent Garden, London, the group's unique style ensues your guests will be engaged and enthralled from the outset.

Regular performers at the London Southbank Centre, the Edinburgh Festival as well the Babaro International Arts Festival in Ireland, they have toured worldwide and are in constant demand for both TV and Radio.

"I would like to thank you and all the members from Graffiti Classics for your wonderful performance at the reception at Aras an Uachtaráin on Thursday, 18 September, 2003. I greatly appreciate the contribution you made to our event in terms of talent and time."

Mary McAleese, President Of Ireland
