Coffee and Tea

Tea or coffee, what's your brew?! Get together with colleagues for a unique tea and coffee tasting experience, learning all about the harvesting and ethics behind these drinks we love so much...

We will teach guests all about 'coffee cupping', a recognized practice used worldwide for scoring the quality and aromas in a particular brew. We will also teach you about cold brewing and how it affects the flavour. Our expert will chat through different ways in making a perfect cup of tea including oolong, chia and black teas, with tips and tricks to correctly taste these beverages. We will also taste a range of coffee and touch on some of the liquors which can be added. There will also be an opportunity for questions from your guests.

This event is a great way to bring together your team, to network and try something new. After attending this session, you will certainly learn to appreciate every cup of tea and coffee moving forwards whatever your preference!
